

John Winzeler

John Winzeler president of Winzeler Gear, a 71 year old, 3rd generation, family business. Winzeler Gear designs and manufacturers' precision molded gears for automotive, appliance, and office automation markets. I have a Bachelor of Science degree in mechanical engineering from Bradley University. I serve on many education steering committees and advisory councils and am presently a member of the permanent collection committee at the Museum of Contemporary Art. I enjoy working with the Fashion Committee and Industrial Design School at SAIC. My hobbies include: Growing a manufacturing business, collecting contemporary art, and the art of women's couture. My wife Carol and I enjoy spending time together at our Island home in Wisconsin and traveling to F1 automobile races, major art shows, and contemporary art museums around the world.
